Doyle Middle School (DMS) - 2010 Capital Project

Multi-phased renovation and alterations

U.W. Marx is providing Construction Management Services to The Enlarged City School District of Troy for the District's 2010 Capital Project.

The $56 million project will correct structural and safety problems at the 192,000 s/f Doyle Middle School (DMS), modernize the District's athletic fields and provide needed repairs to Troy High School.

Changes at DMS will bring about a modern design and aesthetic to the school, while also improving the learning environment by increasing the amount of natural daylight in the building. Work at DMS will also include updates to the Music and Art Department, Athletic Department and school Auditorium.

The project will bring the facilities up to current NYSED standards, making the buildings easier to maintain, more energy efficient and ADA compliant.
