Dance Building Rehabilitation

U.W. Marx provided general contracting services to SUNY Purchase College (under contract with the State University Construction Fund) for the rehabilitation of the Westchester County, NY school's Dance Building.

The project involved a complete replacement of the skylight system, curtainwall and masonry flashing. The renovation is expected to maintain the integrity of the building, while also enhancing the structural make-up of the active dance facility. The building had suffered damage from water intrusion.

According to SUNY Purchase's web site, "the award-winning Dance Building, designed by Gunner Birkerts, is the first facility in the United States to be constructed solely for the study and performance of dance."
